REQUIRED DOMESTIC VIOLENCE INFORMATION

The Domestic Violence Prevention Act (Family Code 6200) defines abuse as “intentionally or recklessly to cause or attempt to cause bodily injury, or sexual assault, or to place a person in reasonable apprehension of imminent serious bodily injury to that person or to another.”

The further Definition of Domestic Violence can be the use of physical force, restraint, or threats of force to compel one to do something against one’s will or to do bodily harm to self or loved ones. This includes but is not limited to: assault (pushing, slapping, choking, hitting, etc.); use of or threat with a weapon; sexual assault; unlawful entry; destruction of property; keeping someone prisoner or kidnapping; infliction of physical injury or murder. Psychological intimidation or control may also be maintained through such means as stalking, harassment, threats against children or others, violence against pets, or destruction of property.
